Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-15, 17-27, 29, 30, and 32-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by van der Heijden '771.

Van der Heijden shows a pump having a chamber seen in Figure 9; plunger 4, 156; first liquid pump 91; second liquid pump 90 (both connected to the plunger to act in unison); mixed liquid passage 155; convoluted air passage 171; the pumps are concentric as seen in Figure 9; inner tube 90; inner chamber 159; inner piston member 133; outer tube 91; outer piston chamber 160; outer piston member 156; inner/outer inlet and outlet valves as the ball valves seen in Figure 9 and 161, 162; openings and seals also seen in Figure 9 (and numerals 161-163); retainers and spring seen in Figure 9; container 1; divider wall 2; first compartment in 2; second compartment outside 2; feed tube 6; as seen in Figure 9, the containers are concentric, 2 is "stacked" on top of part of the remaining portion of the outer container, and portions of the containers are side by side; mesh member/mixer insert 120; valve plate 168 having an inlet and outlet valve portion; spout at 121; the passages are orthogonal as seen in Figure 9; the use of bladders is discussed in column 12, lines 21-24; vent seal 168; and shroud member 110.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 28 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over van der Heijden.

Van der Heijden shows all claimed features as previously discussed, but lacks the umbrella valves. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute the umbrella valves for the ball valves as they are well known equivalents that would not easily jam or become dislodged.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 16 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Visceglia et al. shows a multi-component dispenser with bags; and Bistolfi, Foster et al., van der Heijden '364; and Gaucher show other foamer pumps.
